The Diamond Necklace.

"Mind that miserable affair of the necklace," said Talleyrand. "I should be no wise surprised if it should overturn the French monarchy." Marie Antoinette, a bride, young and beautiful, was naturally very fond of dress. Cardinal Rohan, a profligate, luxurious dignitary of the church, by enormous extravagance had become inextricably involved in debt. He had lost favor at court, and loitered around the saloons of Versailles, watching for an opportunity to regain favor. At the same time there was at Versailles a very beautiful and fascinating, though thoroughly unprincipled woman, the Countess Lamotte. Occupying a very equivocal position, though the courtiers gathered readily at her entertainments, the queen had never met her. Versailles, in those dawning hours of the Revolution, was thronged with such characters, and the universal corruption of the times was such, that they attracted but little attention.

The jewelry of the queen was quite ample. She had brought from Vienna a large number of pearls and diamonds As queen of France she inherited all the crown jewels of the kingdom. The daughter of Louis XV, had also, on her dying bed, bequeathed Marie Antoinette a collar of pearls, of a single row, the smallest of which was as large as a filbert. In addition to these, her royal husband, Louis XVI., had presented her with a set of rubies and diamonds, and a pair of bracelets which cost $40,000. Still the queen's thirst for gems was not satiated. Boehmer, the crown jeweler, had collected six pear formed diamonds of prodigious size. He offered them, as ear-rings to the queen for $80,000. The queen could not resist the temptation, though, as a matter of special economy, she removed two of the gems, and replaced them by two of her own, engaging to pay for the jewels, thus arranged, $72,000, in equal instalments, for five years, from her private purse. Boehmer now busied himself in collecting the most magnificent necklace of diamonds in the world. Wherever he could hear of a large and beautiful gem, he negotiated for it. In this way he expended immense sums—far more than his own fortune, hoping to effect a sale to the queen by which he could secure great profits

At length the magnificent string, of the costliest diamonds to be purchased in Europe, was complete. The glittering bauble was exhibited to the Queen and offered to her for $350,000. The King, a man of no common sense, and, at that time, exceedingly attached to his wife, was anxious that she should possess the ornament, and yet the treasury was so bankrupt that he could not put his hands upon the money. The risings of the storm of the French Revolution were also then beginning to be felt, and the whole nation were clamoring against the extravagance of the court. The queen having far more vigor of mind than her husband, felt that the purchase would expose her to measureless censure, and reluctantly declined the offer, stating, for public effect, "We have more need of ships than of diamonds"

Boehmer was in consternation. He was ruined if he could not find a purchaser, and none but those possessing regal wealth could be expected to indulge in such a luxury. He spent a year, visiting the various courts of Europe, but was unable to dispose of his treasure. Again he returned in despair to Versailles, and mourned so bitterly over his troubles that he became almost frantic, and was the subject of general conversation. At one time he succeeded in gaining access to the queen, and bursting into tears, with clasped hand, exclaimed:

"Madame, I am ruined if you do not purchase my necklace. I shall throw myself into the river!"

The Queen, exceedingly displeased, said:

"Rise, Boehmer! I do not like these rhapsodies. Should you destroy yourself, I should regret you as a madman, in whom I had taken an interest, but should not be responsible for the deed. Let me never see you behave thus again. Go!"

The queen was interested in the unfortunate man's troubles, and some time after this, through Madame Campan, inquired what disposition he had made of the necklace. He said that the grand sultan of Constantinople had purchased it for the favorite sultana The queen expressed much gratification that Boehmer had got extricated from his troubles. Soon after this, Marie Antoinette's infant son was baptized. The king purchased of Boehmer, as a baptismal present for the child, a diamond equalet and buckles. As the crown jeweler delivered them to the queen, he slipped into her hands a petition, containing the following sentence:

"I am happy to see your Majesty in possession of the finest diamonds in Europe; and I entreat your Majesty not to forget me."

"What does the man mean?" said the queen, as she read this note. "He must be insane."

A few days after Boehmer called upon Madame Campan, and anxiously inquired if she had no commission for him from the queen, adding, "To whom must I apply for an answer to the letter I presented her?"

"To no one," Madame Campan replied; "her majesty could not comprehend its meaning"

"That is impossible," said the man trembling; "the queen knows that she owes me three hundred thousand dollars for the necklace."

"Man, you are crazy," said Madame Campan, "did you not tell me yourself that you had sold it at Constantinople."

"The queen requested me," he replied, "to state that to all who inquired upon the subject, as she did not wish to have it known that she had made the purchase. Cardinal Rohan took took the necklace in her name. I have all the promissory notes signed by the queen."

"It is a detestable plot" said Madame Campan

The poor man, delirious with fright, hastened to the cardinal. Rohan seemed much embarrassed, and was disposed to say nothing He then hastened to the queen, who was at Little Trianon. She was very much alarmed, and told the story to the king. He immediately sent for the cardinal. Rohan said, trembling in every nerve, that the Countess Lamotte had brought him a letter from the queen, requesting him to purchase the diamonds for her, and that he had done so, supposing that he was conferring a favor upon the queen.

"How could you suppose," said the queen, "that I should have selected you for such a purpose, or that I could have employed such a character as Countess Lamotte?"

"I see that I heve been duped," he said, and he drew from his pocket a letter, directed to the Countess Lamotte, and signed in the name of the queen Still there were circumstances which exposed the cardinal very strongly to the suspicion of having been an accomplice in the fraud. He was arrested, and his trial, through various interruptians, continued more than a year. The enemies of the queen took the ground that he was innocent, and that the queen, with the infamous Lamotte as her accomplice, had duped him. All France was agitated with the contest. The cardinal appeared at his treal in the utmost pomp of ecclesiastical robes, and was treated with the most marked respect. He was finally acquitted by a majority of three votes. This was regarded as a virtual declaration that the queen was guilty. A friend who called upon the queen immediately after the decission found her weeping bitterly.

The Countess Lamotte was brought to trial. It was popularly understood that the queen was tried, in her person. The dissolute beauty appeared before her judges in the most costly robes. It was clearly proved that she had received the necklace, and that she had sold the separate diamonds, here and there, for large sums of money. The populace were taught to believe that the queen was her accomplice in this infamous deed, sharing, with her, the money. The countess was found guilty, and was doomed, with horrid barbarity, to be whipped, on the bare back, in the courtyard of the prison, to have the letter V branded on each shoulder with a hot iron, and to be imprisoned for life.

As the terrible sentence was pronounced, rage and dispair overwhelmed the wretched woman, and a scene of horror ensued unimaginable. She threw herself upon the floor with piercing screams. The executioner seized her, and dragged her struggling and shrieking into the courtyard, her garments were torn from her back, and the lash cut its way mercilessly into the quivering nerves. The hot irons simmered upon her recoiling flesh. Then, mangled and half dead, she was conveyed to the prison hospital. After nine months of captivity, she was permitted to escape, and she died in England.

No one now doubts that Marie Antoinette was entirely innocent. Whether the cardinal was an accomplice is a question which can never be decided. But the occurrance threw reproach upon the unhappy queen, which hastened the overthrow of the throne of the Bourbons, and conducted her to the guillotine—Abbott.

A Fortunate Kiss.

In the University of Upsala, in Sweden, lived a young student a noble youth, with great love for studies, but without the means of pursuing them. He was poor, without connections. Still he studied, living in great poverty, but keeping a cheerful heart, and trying to look at the future, which looked so grim to him. His good humor and excellent qualities made him beloved by his young comrades. One day he was standing on the square with some of them, prattling away an hour of leisure, when the attention of the young men became arrested by a young and elegant lady, who, by the side of an elder one, was slowly walking over the place. It was the daughter of the Governor of Upsala, living in the city, and the lady was Governess. She was generally known for her goodness and gentleness of character, and looked at with admiration by all the students. As the young men stood gazing at her as she passed on like a graceful vision, one of them suddenly exclaimed:

"Well, it would be worth something to have a kiss from such a mouth!"

The poor student, the hero of our story, who looked on that pure angelic face, exclaimed as if by inspiration.

"Well, I think I could have it!"

"What!" cried his friends, in a chorus, "are you crazy? Do you know her?"

"Not at all!" he answered, "but I think she would kiss me now if I asked her."

"What! in this place—before all our eyes?"

"Freely?"

"Freely."

"Well, if she will give you a kiss in that manner, I will give you a thousand dollars!" exclaimed one of the party.

"And I"—"and I," exclaimed three or four others; for it so happened that several rich young men were in the group, and the bets ran high on so improbable an event. The challenge was made and received in less time than we take to tell it

Our hero immediately walked up to the young lady and said:

"Mine frauline, my fortune is now in your hands."

She looked at him with astonishment, but arrested her lips. He proceeded to state his name and condition, his aspirations, and related simply and truly what had just now passed between him and his comrades.

The young lady listened attentively, and at his ceasing to speak, she said, blushing, but with great sweetness:

"If by so little a thing so much good can be effected, it would be foolish for me to refuse your request;" and publicly in the open square she kissed him.

Next day the student was sent for by the Governor. He wanted to see the man who dare to seek a kiss from his daughter in that way, and whom she consented to kiss.

He received him with a scrutinizing brow, but after an hour's conversation was so pleased with him that he ordered him to dine at his table during his studies at Upsala.

Our young friend pursued his studies in a manner which soon made him regarded as the most promising student in the University.

Three years were now passed since the day of the first kiss, when the young man was allowed to give a second kiss to the daughter of the Governor.

He, became later, one of the greatest scholars in Sweden, and as much respected for his acquirements as for his character. His works will endure while time lasts, among the works of science; and from this happy union springs a family well known in Sweden even at the present time, and whose wealth and high position in society are regarded as trifles in comparison with its goodness and love.

LUCKY.—Mr. C. T. Tucker, of this place, we understand, is likely to come into full possession of the Lawrence estate, in the Bank of England, amounting to £50,000,000, or $250,000,000. This matter has been in litigation about fifeen years, and all the testimony necessary to establish the claim has finally been obtained Lyman Lawrence, who is a brother of Mr. Tucker's wife, was the legitimate heir, but made a full assignment to Mr. Tucker, who will have full control of the vast estate. If this claim should be established, he will be the richest man in America.—Dubuqe Tribune, Mich.

Looking out for Slights.

There are some people always looking out for slights. They cannot pay a visit, they cannot receive a friend, they cannot carry on the daily intercourse of the family, without suspecting some offense is designed. They are as touchy as hair triggers. Their amor propria, like a porcupine, is ever ready to erect its quills. If they meet an acquaintance in the street, who happens to be preoccupied with business, they attribute his abstraction to some motive personal to themselves, and take umbrage accordingly. A fit of indigestion makes them see impertinence in everybody they come in contact with. Innocent persons, who never dreamed of giving offense, are astonished to find some unfortunate word, or some momentary taciturnity has been mistaken for an insult. To say the least the habit is unfortunate. It is far wiser to take the more charitable view of our fellow beings, and not suppose a slight intended, unless the neglect is open and direct. After all, too, life takes its hues, in a great degree, from the color of our own minds. If we are frank and generous, the world treats us kindly. If, on the contrary, we are suspicious, men learn to be cold and cautious of us. Let a person get a reputation for being touchy, and everybody is under more or less restraint in his or her presence; and in this way the chances of an imaginary offense are vastly increased. Your people who fire up easily lose a deal of happiness. Their jaundiced tempers destroy their own comfort as well as that of their friends. They have forever some fancied slight to brood over. The sunny, serene contentment of less selfish dispositions never visits them.

Have you this suspicious tendency in your character? Lose no time in eradicating it. Whether it comes from excessive sensitiveness or from a worse source, it will prove the bane of your life and the annoyance of your friends. You will always be 'in hot water,' while you retain such weakness. Neither wife nor husband, parent nor child, friend nor acquaintance, can preserve for you an undiminished affection, if you continually imagine slights that were never intended. It is both more prudent and more Christian to err, if you err at all, by not seeing neglect that is not intended. Often a bitter quarrel, a life-long alienation may be averted by overlooking conduct which is the result of temporary irritation.

MOST High, Mighty, Honorable, Learned, Youthful, Venerable, Middle Aged, Distinguished, Amiable, Excellent and Sagacious Grand Turk: May you live a thousand years! We have heard with irrepressible rapture that you have ordered the Confederate Priveteers to keep out of the sweet and sunny waters of Stamboul! May you live two thousand years! Your Majestic Majesty, by this exhibition of your superior sagacity, has won, the distinguished consideration of the undersigned, who, to show our gratitude, are at this moment smoking a pipe of Turkish tobacco of the finest quality, and manufactured to the best of our knowledge and belief in Baltimore, in the State of Maryland. May you live three thousand years! Our kindest regards to the ladies of Harem! May you live from two thousand five hundred to three thousand years, be the same more or less! Bishmillah! The Chief Cook and Bottle-Washer of the Universe does well in having nothing to do with such Confounded Confederate Corsairs! Let it be whispered in his most respectable ear, that pirates may pay out ropes, but never pay out cash! With the wish that his opium may always agree with him, that his hubble-bubble may never go out, and that he may live ten thousand years.

We are His Serenity's Most Humble Servant. VANITY FAIR.

P. S.—Should his Majestic Mightiness intend to forward to this office any little donation, we would hint that a dozen of his Sublime Ports would (so to speak) take us where we live. V. F.

ON Monday next the Board of Equalization will meet at Woodland.

A special term of the Probate Court, Judge I. N. Hoag, will be held at Woodland, on Wednesday next, the 13th inst.

IN another colum will be found an advertisement for proposals to build two Bridges across Cache Creek.

PREACHING.—The Rev. B. H Russell of the M. E. Church, will preach in this place to morrow (Sunday) evening, at early canddle-lighting.

STEAMER BANNER.—We are informed that the steamer Banner, Captain Pierce, will run from Red Bluff to Latona, on the Upper Sacramento River.

DISTRICT COURT.—On Monday next the regular term of the Sixth Judicial District Court, will be held at Woodland by the Hon. J. H. McKune, and from the large number of cases on the Calendar we think the term will be a long one.

POSITIVELY CLOSING OUT.—Messrs Lockwood & Hendrie, corner 4th and J streets, Sacramento, are determined to sell off their large Stock of Clothing, &c., &c., at lest than cost. during the next thirty days, as they intend closing out their business in Sacramento. See advertisement in another column.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATINOS.—Without intending to disparage our neighbors of Woodland, we venture the suggestion, that our hotel accommodations will be found not only comfortable, but actually necessary, during the crowded time of the present term of the District Court. The distance is about an hour and a half's ride, for a moderate traveler in a buggy or on horseback, and our hotel accommodations here are such as we are not ashamed to compare with any in the State.

PERSEVERANCE.—Supervisor Norton, supposed to be a resident of this county, probably having large faith in the axiom that "the third time's the charm," again presented his account last Monday, for mileage from San Francisco to attend a session of the Board of Supervisors in this county. As a matter of course the other two Supervisors refused to allow it. A special notice of the gentleman occurs in another column, written by a citizen of this county, whose name is left at this office.

REED SCHELL, sentenced to the State Prison for five years for the murder of the negro Gordon in San Francisco, is suffering actually from a pulmonary disease. He is confined to his birth and spits blood constantly.

Entering Swamp Lands.

The unusual high waters of last Winter has made a vast deal of trouble among a class of settlers on, and near the Sacramento river, in this vicinity. These parties have taken up their claims, put on dwellings and fences, and in some cases, occupied them for the past ten years, each year raising crops of grain and vegetables, and put out orchards, making in some cases very valuable improvements on the land; last winter, however, the water raised, so as to cover for a short time, the greater portion of these farms. The result has been, that outside parties, taking advantage of this circumstance, have gone and made entries of large tracts of this land, which is already occupied and improved, and, the occupants supposing they were on the lands of the General Government, and the first they knew of the matter, they find their farms have been purchased under the Swamp and Overflowed Act, by outside parties—they themselves never supposing lands of this description would be included and considered as Swamp and Overflowed, in fact, as conscientious men, they could not take the oath required before entry, which is, that the land subject to be entered, is swamp or swampy, and subject to overflow during the cropping or harvesting season, so as to endanger or injure the crops, taking an average number of years as a basis prior to 1850. It will be seen that the oath is a very strong one, and also very few, if any of the parties living on the lands were here before the year 1850; but since that time, there has only been two years when the floods troubled them at all, and these years the only inconvenience was washing away of fences, as the water subsided both years, time enough to raise good crops—the evidence of which is now plain to be seen. But the trouble and uncertainty of their title, is a great annoyance to the settlers; for if this land should be granted by the General Government to the State as swamp land, the occupants must inevitably lose their possessions, together with all their improvement, and the only hope they have is, that it will not eventually be so consided. The State has evidently legislated very loosly, with regard to these lands. There ought to have been a provision in the law protecting actual settlers in their possessions, until after the fact was definately known whether the land was or was not to be considered swamp and overflowed.

Important to Locators of Swamp Land.

The following instructions have been received by J. F. Houghton, Surveyor General, from Frank M. Pixley, Attorney General, relating to contests on Swamp Lands—it will be seen that protests can not be received by the Surveyor General except from parties who desire to enter the Lands in opposition to the ones protested against, and where two parties each desire to enter the same tract, it is necessary that each should have the land surveyed and transmit plats, &c., to the Surveyor General, when he is authorized to decide on the merits of the case between the two contestants, but in no other case can he hear protests.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
OFFICE OF SURVEYOR GENERAL,
SACRAMENTO, July 28, 1862.

To ———, County Surveyor, ——— County—Sir: I beg leave to call your attention to the following opinion of the Attorney General in relation to contests arising before the Register of the State Land Office:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SAN FRANCISCO, July 12, 1862.

J. F. Houghton, Es ., Surveyor General—Dr. Sir: Your note of June 30th wa received, asking my opinion as to the construction of the sixteenth section of the Act concerning the creation of a State Land Office for the State of California.

Your duties are fully detailed by the law. You are required to issue "certificates of purchase" to buyers of lands, upon their having complied with the requirements of the law as prescribed by the statutes. Where locators desire these certificates have taken all the preliminary steps, paid their money, and present themselves at your office, with evidence of the regularity of their proceedings, it seems to me very clear that they ought not to be embarrassed by the protest of persons who are not contesting for the certificate of purchase, or other evidence of title to the same tract or tracts of land.

I regard these "protests" as entitled to very little consideration. They are something which the law does not know or recognize; they have no legal force; they issue from no Court.

You are directed to issue certificates of purchase, upon certain other parties doing certain things. Your powers are not discretionary; you are clothed with no judicial authority, and you have no right to say to the claimant, "True, you have done all the law requires of you, but lying in the pigeon hole of my office I find a protest, requesting me not to issue to you your evidence of purchase." You cannot know that this protest is in good faith, or that it comes from parties in actual interest, or that it states facts upon which you have a right to act.

If other parties have a right or title to the land, or if they are to be prejudiced by the issuance of certificates of purchase, they have a legal remedy; they may, by a suit in equity, enjoin the issuance of any certificate to cloud their title; they may, if in possession, stand upon it until title is proved; if out of possession, they may bring ejectment to try title; the Courts are open to them for any remedy for injury your office can do in issuing certificates of purchase.

I am, then, of opinion that the precedent established by your predecessor in office was a bad one, and that a different practice will be in accordance with law.

Yours truly, FRANK M. PIXLEY,
Attorney General.

You will readily see by this opinion that the only contest which can arise before the Register as contemplated by the law, is where two or more persons are applying to purchase the same tract of land through his office.

In order to furnish all parties having any claim to lands with facilities for such a contest as the law intended you will hereafter be guided by the following instructions in addition to those already furnished you:

Whenever one or more persons apply to you for surveys of either swamp or school lands, with the intention of purchasing the same under the State laws, you will, in the case of school lands, furnish each person so applying with a plat and field notes of the lands so applied for, to be by him given to the locating agent, and in the case of swamp lands you will forward to this office plat and field notes for each applicant in usual form. Respectfully, yours,

J. F. HOUGHTON,
Surveyor General and Register of State Land Office.

A Model Officer.

What must we think of an officer whose peculiar notions of delicate honor, and all other kinds of honor, induced him to be hypercritically technical in his objections to some poor unlearned man's very small account, and at the same time offer to vote for the allowance of his own account, when the latter is glaringly an outrage upon the public treasury.

Mr. S. N. Norton, Supervisor of Washington District, is precisely such an officer. On the 9th of May last, he presented his account (to a Board consisting of himself and Supervisor Morris!) in which he claims "for 236 miles necessarily traveled in going from the city of San Francisco to the County Seat of Yolo county and returning." This was accompanied by an eloquent and pathetic affidavit, in which he avers that he is a member of the Board of Supervisors of this county, and that when Washington was overflowed, in January last, "the building which he then occupied was by the inundation, rendered utterly uninhabitable, and that he escaped therefrom with difficulty in a boat, called by him to his assistance." Dear me!

He goes on, in this very affecting manner, to swear, that "it became necessary to remove temporarily to some safe and convenient place, and that he did so remove to the city of San Francisco, that being the most convenient and accessible place."

The affidavit is like one of the "thrilling" stories of the New York Ledger, so long, that it may possibly be "continued in our next," while in the meantime we can condense the whole story into the remark, that such a Supervisor ought to be supervised—he will not only bear watching, but will need it. BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

LITTLE WASHINGTON, Va., Aug., 3.—A reconnoitering column under General Crawford yesterday crossed the Rapinda, and pushed forward to Orange Court House and took possession of the town, which was occupied by two regiments of the enemy's cavalry, under Gen. Robertson. Eleven of the enemy were killed and 52 taken prisoners. Among the latter were one Major, two Captains and two Lieutentants. Our loss was two killed and three wounded. The enemy retreated in such haste as to leave their wounded in our hands.

It is ordered, first, that a draft of three hundred thousand militia be made immediately in to the service of the United Statec, to serve nine months, unless sooner discharged. The Secretary of War will assign the quotas to the States, and establish regulations for the draft.

Second.—That if any State shall not by the 15th of August furnish its quota of the additional three hundred thousand volunteers authorized by the law, the deficiency of volunteers in that State will also be made up by special draft from the militia. The Secretary of War will establish regulations for this purpose. The regulations will be presented to the President, with the object of securing the promotion of officers of the army and volunteers for galantry and distinguished services, and preventing the nomination and appointment of incompetent persons. The regulations will also provide for ridding the service of such incompetent persons as now hold commissions.

FT. MONROE, Aug. 1.—It is rumored and believed here that the new Merrimac will come down as far as Fort Darling. The Federal gunboats have passed up the river beyond Harrison's Landing. Last night, between twelve and one o'clock, the rebels opened fire on McClellan's center, and continued for about an hour and a half, with four batteries of flying artillery, opposite the landing, some above and some below. Not one-third of their shells exploded. Several vessels were struck by fragments of shells. Not one vessel of the fleet was injured. Nine soldiers were killed or wounded. After half a hour's delay, our siege guns opened fire, and in forty minutes the rebels were silenced.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A letter to the Herald, dated Hilton Head, July 31st, says:

The rebel's ram, which for a long time has been in process of construction at Savannah, is completed, armed and ready for service. All accounts which come to us represent her as very formidable. She is of light draft and great power, and has a very heavy armamen. Already the rebels are making the necessary soundings preparatory to bringing her down the river. Two steamers carrying the rebel flag, which are engaged in the performance of this service, came within range of Fort Pulaski's guns on Tuesday, but were compelled to retreat. Dupont is making every preparation to receive the monster.

HUDSON, Mo., Aug. 3.—Porter's guerrillas crossed to the north bank of the Missouri river on Wednesday last, and on Thursday night crossed the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, on their way to the northern counties, pursued by Col. Guitar's force. Porter had between 600 and 700 men. Bands numbering 10, 20 and 50, were constantly joining. Another notorious marauder, with an equal number of men, was marching on Glasgow yesterday, where there are less than 200 Federals. The guerrillas of Northeastern Mo. probably nuber 2,000, but it is confidently believed that their operations will be speedily brought to a close by the prompt and efficient measures adopted by our forces. Porter and Poindexter profess to have come from the Confederate Government to raise recruits to join their forces, which are expected soon to be in the State again.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A special to the New York Tribune says:

The Government is now fully prepared for the plots of the border State Secessionists, whether in Maryland or Kentucky, and will instantly crush any attempted treason. Gov. Magoffin of Ky. is watched. Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky will be formed into an independent military department, under Gen Buell's command, with a Commissary General, whose headquarters will be at Cincinnati.

Specials to the New York papers of July 3d, says:

After a full conference between the deputation from Ohio—who came to Washington to represent the exposed condition of the border of that State—and the Navy department, the latter promised the Committee as many gunboats for service exclusively on the Ohio river as they wanted. Ten small boats, drawing two feet of water, have been already selected and inspected by the agents of the Department. Each boat is calculated to carry two guns. It is believed that when they are placed on the river all dangerous guerrilla invasions will be at an end.

It is said in well informed circles, that direct and decisive action is to be taken in the prosecution of the war, and that a perfect agreement exists between the principal Generals and the Executive branch of Government.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 1.—Deserters from Vicksburg confirm the reports of another rebel gunboat being built up the Yazoo river. They also say there are a number of rams nearly completed.

FT. MONROE, Aug. 3.—The following advices from Spencerville were recived to night: Quite a strong Union sentiment has been manifested by many citizens. The wives of several wealthy planters visit our sick soldiers in the hospitals almost daily, and send them luxuries.

About 400 citizens, residing within the lines of Gen. Sigle's corps, had taken the oath of allegiance. Seventy have been arrested, and are now in charge of the Provost Marshal.

Twenty rebel prisoners who were taken by scouting parties within the past two weeks were parolled to-day.

A brisk skirmish took place yesterday a short distance beyond Madison Court House. Several of the enemy were wounded, and only one of our men hurt.

Reports are current among the rebel sympathizers that the enemy have evacuated Richmond.

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 3.—The cavalry which have been in pursuit of the rebel Jackson's force have returned, and report that in all their fights they only had three killed and eight missing.

Jackson is now south of the Hatchie river, and is being pursued by cavalry from Bolivar. These rebel raids, of which this is probably the last, are supposed to be intended to cover the real movements of the main body of the rebel troops, though the object of the latter is known to be to attack Buell. The rebel forces concentrated south of the lines of our army are said to be in motion in the direction of Stevenson and Chattanooga, and the rebel cavalry, which have been making demonstrations in Kentucky and Tennessee is believed to be now making for the rear of this movement. There is now no direct overland communication between Grant and Buell, all communication between them being sent via Cairo.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—The order releasing prisoners from enrollment, on the payment of $10 has been revoked. Another order has been issued, directing the enrollment of all loyal citizens into companies. Secessionists are not permitted to enter the militia, but are required to give all their arms to the nearest military post.

FT. MONROE, Aug 3.—One division of Gen. Burnside's corps has left the Roads, sailing in a direction quite the opposite of James river and Harrison's Landing. Other divisions are embarking and will sail very soon. Great secresy has been observed in making this movement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A letter to the Tribune says:

McClellan sent a large force across James river on Saturday—mostly from Fitzjohn Porter's command. The number is said to be 15,000.

WASHINGTON, Aag. 5.—A dispatch from Pope's headquarters, dated yesterday says:

Information from various sources tends to confirm the belief that the enemy have evacuated Richmond and taken up the south bank of the James river as the new line of defense. The rebel cavalry, under Gen. Robertson, is believed to have been withdrawn from the Shenandoah valley, leaving that portion of the country to the defense of guerrillas alone.

It has been believed here in some quarters for several days, that the enemy have been evacuating Richmond. There is reasonable suspicion that a pestilence has broken out in that city.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Dispatches received at headquarters say:

The rebel attack on Bloomfield a few days since was unsuccessful. Information from Glasgow, Mo., says that 150 Federal troops at that place are in danger from a large band of guerrillas under Poindexter. Should the report prove true of a strong rebel force deing in that vicinity, the garrison will probably retire to the other side of the river.

In the northeastern part of the State the town of Newark was attacked by a large force of guerrillas on Friday last. Only two companies of State troops were stationed at the outskirts, who were driven into the town by superior numbers. A regular skirmish took place—the State troops firing from behind houses and fences. At dark they were compelled to capitulate. The Federal loss was 4 killed and 4 wounded. The rebel loss, according to their own statements, was 73 killed and a number wounded.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug 5.—Gov. Sprague has called on the colored citizens for a regiment as part of the quota of the State. He promised to accompany them to the field and share their perils with them.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A special dispatch to the Times from Washington says there is a report in that city that McClellan's army is packing on transports for the purpose of changing the line of advance upon Richmond. This rumor was startling to the general public, but gratifying to the more thoughtful., who think the successful performance of such a change would greatly improve the situation. The rumor had its origin probably in the expedition that has just effected an important movement on the James river.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 5.—Private advices from Gen. Curtis' army state that our forces now shoot or hang every guerrilla caught, and take every negro they can find and put him to work, and subsist the army on the enemy as far as possible. They confiscate all rebel horses and cattle wherever found.

Orders have been received to prepare complote rolls of the rebel prisoners now confined at Camp Norton, with a view to a general exchange. Nearly 4,300 are here, among whom are 2,100 Tennesseeans, who refuse to be exchanged, and desire to take the oath of allegiance. They prefer to remain prisoners to being exchanged, claiming to be citizens of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Secretary of War has issued orders exempting from military duty all persons actually employed in constructing or operating telegraph lines, in consequence of the lines being required for military purposes.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 2.—The enemy is reported in force eight miles from here, under Bragg. Two regiments of infantry and some cavalry and artillery went out a few miles to-day. As the advanced pickets have not yet returned, it is expected that they have engaged with the enemy's pickets.

BUCKEYE MOWER.

Farmers Buy the Best Machine!!!

THE Buckeye has proved itself to be the best Mower, and

MOWER & REAPER COMBINED,

That has ever yet been brought into use. It has the following advantages over other Machines:

It has two driving wheels which support the whole weight of the frame, gearing, driver and raker.

It has a double hinged finger-bar, belonging exclusively to the Buckeye Mower, which conforms to all varieties of surface, and can be easily raised to pass obstructions.

It has no cog gearing in the driving wheels—it is entirely free from side draft—the draft is lighter than ordinary ploughing.

As a REAPER, it has all the advantages of the Mower. The Reed is attached with a flexible joint, which allows it to follow all the movements of the Platform on uneven ground. The platform is readily adjusted to any required height of cut. The weight of the Raker is directly over the axel of the machine instead of being carried on the Platform, where it adds greatly to the side draft. It has many other Improvements over the old style Mower and Reapers.

THE

Knight's Landing News.

THERE is no action of man in this life which is not the beginning of so long a chain of consequences as that no human providence is high enough to give a prospect to the end.

MRS. Harris says, "her darter Jane was only married a little over a year when she had two boys, both sons."

HE who labors for mankind without a care for himself, has already begun his immortality.

THE gentleman who has been trying to raise the wind finds himself 'blown' all over town.

WHY does a sculptor die a harder death than other men? Because he makes faces and 'busts.'

IN the heart of every man eminently great, the lion and the lamd dwell together.

IF five and a half yards make a perch, how many will it take to make a salmon?

WHO is the largest man? The lover; he is a fellow of tremendous sighs.

WE cannot give our best thoughts to a subject, if we give all our thoughts

MANUFACTURER'S AGENTS, AND dealers in Pitt's, Ball's, Russell's, and other popular

Thrashing Machines.

Also, the following

Reapers and Mowers,

Improved for the harvest of 1862:

And sole agents for the celebrated Nourse, Mason & Co's

Ketchum's Improved Mowers,

With or without Reaper attachments—the best mowing machine in use. They will be furnished this season at greatly reduced prices, bringing them within the reach of every farmer. These machines are very much improved, and never fail in the matted or lodged clover- cutting with equal ease the tall or tangled grass without clogging or breaking; and so close that it will save from one to five dollars' worth of hay per acre more than any other machine. They are furnished with Reaper Attachment, at small cost—making them a good and serviceable combined machine; and when all other machines have failed in the tangled grain, the work has been done by the Ketchum machine to the perfect satisfaction of all. The one horse machine cuts four feet; the light two-horse machine cuts four and a half and five feet—two sizes; the heavy two-horse machine cuts five and five and a half feet, two sizes. Any boy capable of driving the team can manage the machine; it is not liable to get out of order.

The New Bay State two-wheeled Mower.—We have purchased the patent right to the New Bay State Mower for the State of California. It is one of the many machines lately invented, and stands far ahead of all others in point of excellence as a two-wheeled mowing machine, having all the new improvements that have been fairly tested. It is very light, strong, durable machine, and cuts full four and a half feet.

The Vermont Mower—Also, a two-wheeled machine. It is made mostly of iron, simple in construction, and can be managed with ease.

The Buckeye Machine has two driving wheels like the Vermont machine, and is simple in its construction.

he Molly Stark Mower, (manufactured at Canton, Ohio), is a very light mower, of the Buckeye pattern.

Ball's Ohio Harvester, (manufactured at Canton, Ohio), is a two-wheeled Reaper and Mower. Has two cutter bars—one for reaping and one for mowing. We have imported a few for trial this season.

The Kentucky Harvester cuts about five and a half feet. Said to be a very good machine.

Burt's Eagle Reaper and Mower,

(Improved for 1862.) Baker & Hamilton, sole agents for this machine in California and Oregon.

We have imported these machines for the past two years, which were furnished to some of our neighboring farmers and thoroughly tested. They gave general satisfaction both in cutting grain and grass. The style is very much the same as the celebrated Esterly's machine, except that they are better made; have a strong iron finger bar; are hand-raking reapers and have no side draft. They have a large four foot driving wheel. The outside grain wheel is thirty inches in diameter, The driver's seat is over two iron truck wheels, each thirty inches in diameter, and the machine may be turned round without crowding the horses, as there is no weight upon their necks. They have two sets of gearing for fast and slow motion; a smooth knife for mowing, and a sickle for reaping; the back of each is made of hammered cast steel. They cut about six and a half feet, and can be worked with two light horses. We have but a few for this season's trade, owing to the fact that the great demand at the factory made it impossible for the manufacturer to fill our orders for a large number in season for shipment to this market.

Rugg's Reaper and Mower cutting six and nine feet. This machine cuts in advance of the horses, and the cutter can be raised by the driver from one to twenty-four inches. Sold very cheap.

Haine's Illinois Harvester, or Header, cuts ten feet. Improved for the harvest of 1862. We have also imported complete sets of trucks, or running gear for header-wagons, with neck yokes and whiffletrees complete.

P. Manny's Improved Combined Reaper and Mower.—This is a new style of machine, very light, yet strongly built, lately patented by P Manny, in which there are many valuable improvements. We are willing to guarantee this Combined Reaper and Mower in every instance.

We have imported a large stock of extras for repairing Reapers, Mowers and Thrashers, all of which will be sold cheap for cash.

—ALSO—

Haying and Harvesting Tools

Of every description necessary to meet the wants of the farmers. These they have in large quantities, and can supply to traders wholesale and retail, at San Francisco prices.
